

Parent Questionnaire April 2025

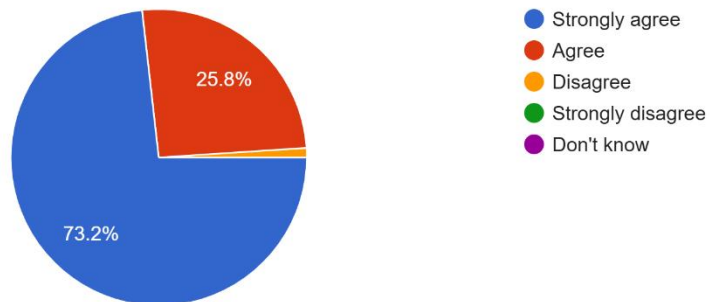

My child is happy at Banks Road.

97 responses

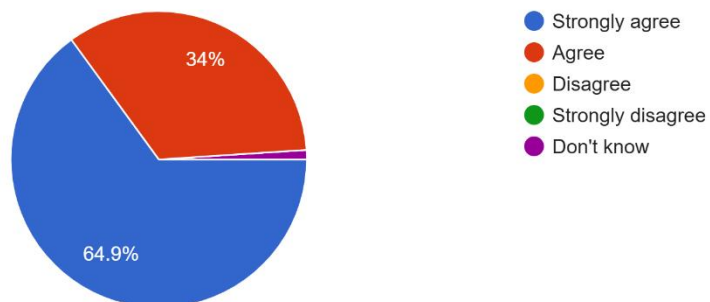

My child feels safe at Banks Road.

97 responses

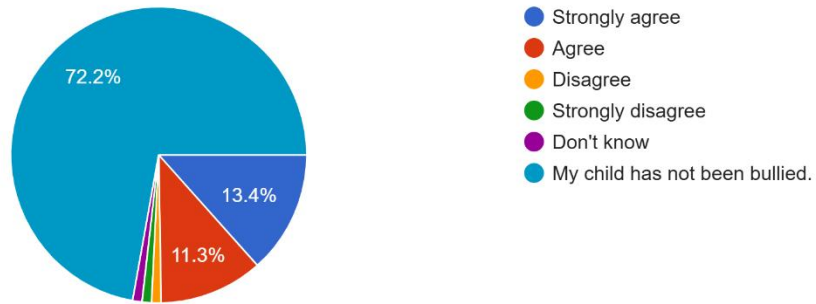

Banks Road makes sure its pupils are well behaved.

97 responses

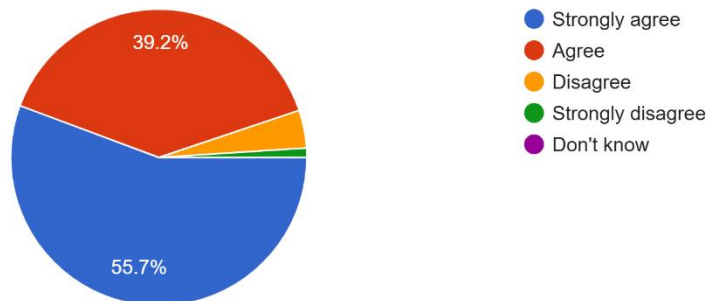

My child has been bullied and the school dealt with the bullying quickly and effectively.

97 responses

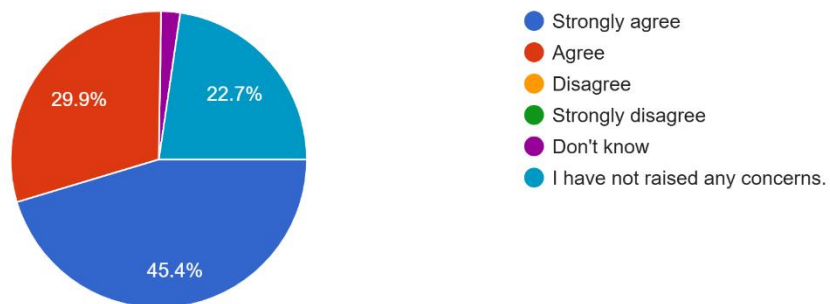

Banks Road makes me aware of what my child will learn during the year.

97 responses

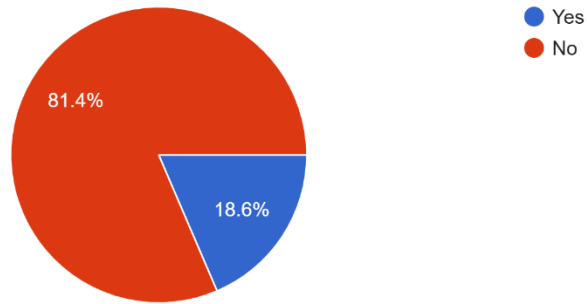

When I have raised concerns with Banks Road they have been dealt with properly.

97 responses

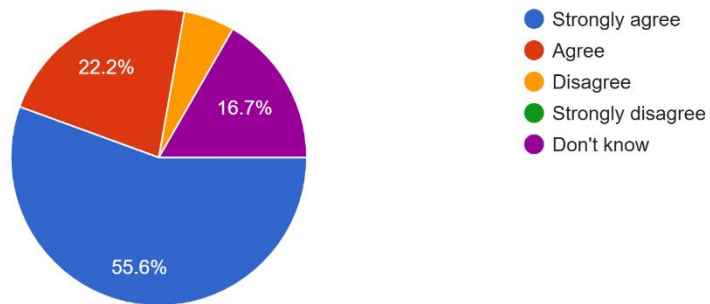

Does your child have special educational needs and/or disabilities (SEND)?

97 responses

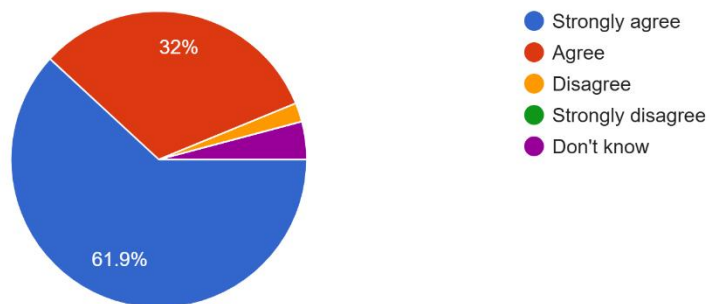

My child has SEND, and the school gives them the support they need to succeed.

18 responses

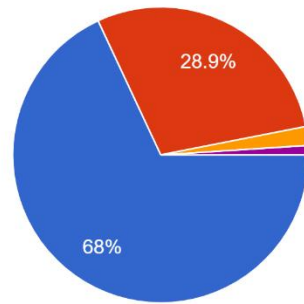

Banks Road has high expectations for my child.

97 responses

My child does well at Banks Road.

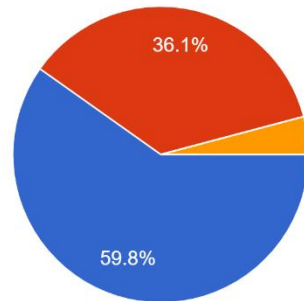

97 responses

- Strongly agree
- Agree
- Disagree
- Strongly disagree
- Don't know

Banks Road lets me know how my child is doing.

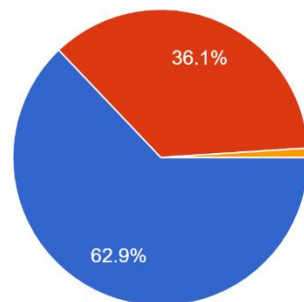

97 responses

- Strongly agree
- Agree
- Disagree
- Strongly disagree
- Don't know

There is a good range of subjects available to my child at Banks Road.

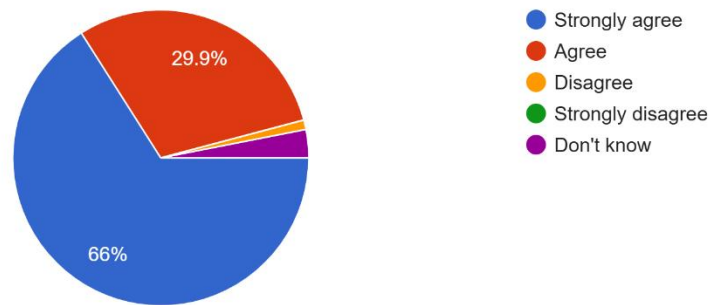

97 responses

- Strongly agree
- Agree
- Disagree
- Strongly Disagree
- Don't know

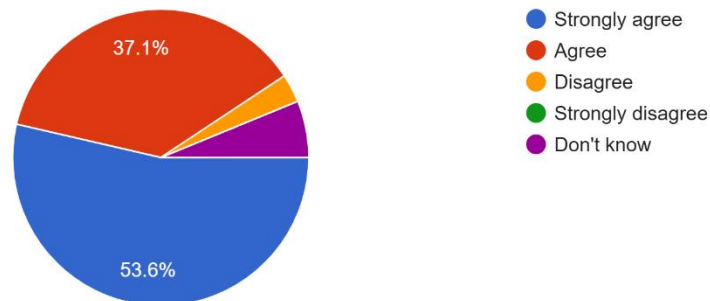

My child can take part in clubs and activities at Banks Road.

97 responses

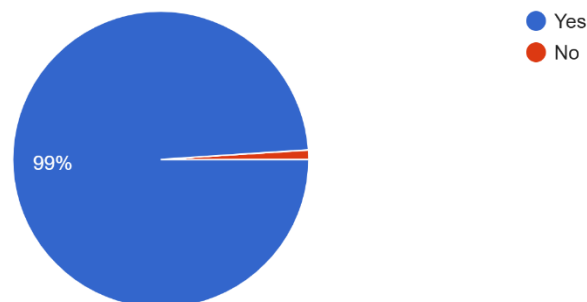

Banks Road supports my child's wider personal development.

97 responses

I would recommend Banks Road to another parent.

97 responses

Other Comments

- No
- More updates on the children's learning, class dojo has lacked alot this year compared to his previous year group. Find it hard to speak with teacher after school because it's rushed, and I find you can't really discuss anything discreetly as the teacher can be quite loud. My child wakes up every morning and complains he feels sick. This is to avoid going to school. When trying to get him through the gates he has to be collected by the teaching assistant, so I don't know if my child is happy. When I question how he is the response I receive is "he's had a great day" My child is on the ASD pathway so knowing anything about his day is crucial for his diagnosis. I received his first PPP this term and again I find his focus and attention effects his learning. Why do I find this out from a PPP and not from his teacher.

- Amazing opportunities for the children to take part in international visits and Liverpool orchestra. My child learning an instrument has saved me so much money! Teachers go above and beyond. So pleased I sent her here. Mr Savage Mr Wilson and the team are all amazing. Well done to the whole team
- My child(ren) has always been happy here at banks road, they have never had any issues with pulps or any members of staff.
- My child has only recently joined school and the support before they started and since they have been part of the school has been amazing from all staff
- A huge thankyou to Mr Wilson, his LT team and all the teachers for their hard work and dedication in giving our children the best possible start.
- John the care taker is boss
- Banks Road has supported and guided Joseph so much and helped him get to where he is today. Can't thank the staff enough.
- I like how my son is taken care of, the staff is always very friendly and polite. Every time I have to talk to someone, its easy to contact them and they answer promptly. I am really pleased to have my son in Banks Road
- Archie has developed with his reading and writing so much since moving to year 1, the skills he has learned which transfer to how he has progressed outside of school has been brilliant, the school encourage his independence and encourage self learning which has had a huge impact on his confidence. Archie has always been an active child he is very sporty and seeing how he is improving academically and how the school encourage his learning is great as a parent to see, and banks road have helped him develop so much. Thank you
- None
- No, other than the question that I disagreed on is nothing to do with the school as such, it's Thomas, he's not interested in learning or doing any type of homework. He is happy at the school but he doesn't like school in general - we have the same conversation every day, it's sometimes a struggle to get him to school
- Thanks for supporting my children
- Banks Road is a very special school, with excellent, impeccable staff. They provide a variety of extracurricular activities for students, a complete curriculum, they are very attentive, they care about the well-being of the students and they make us feel safe and at ease. I recommend the school to everyone. My son is very happy at Banks Road.
- Oliver has been at Banks Road since reception and has exceeded in everything he does because he is happy there. It's going to be a very emotional goodbye at the end of the summer term when he leaves for secondary school. I can't thank all the staff enough for everything they have done to help him succeed.
- Hard working, supportive and dedicated teachers. Keep up the good work
- Anayah absolutely loves school and that is all down to the staff ensuring a safe and fun environment!
- Archie began his Banks Road Journey with speech and language needs, the school supported him and us as parents with amazing commitment and communication. This commitment has continued through his years at Banks Road and Archie has thrived and excelled, the school is a true part of our community and always goes above and beyond. All of the teachers and staff go the extra mile for our children, showing genuine care and understanding of every child's needs, this in turn gives our children the safe and supportive environment for them to be their best selves. We would and have always recommended Banks Road School to other parents, it's is an amazing School that always strives for their pupils happiness, well-being and excellence!
- I'm actually really gutted that Emily might have to move schools due to us going into temporary housing I'm going to do what I can to try keep her there
- Bella has alot of support
- New special needs teacher Miss Seating is very good. Just like Mr Savage she always listens and makes time for me and my son. many parents would really like parent workshops to get their English and maths. The childrens centre next door doesnt do these anymore

- We are very happy with the school and will be sorry to move the kids to another school due to a house move. Keep up the good work. I only have a couple of niggles that I would like to mention: I would appreciate a few more healthy options or replacements during school lunches, e.g. fruit as an option for dessert, wholemeal bread only, brown pasta only. No crisps with the sandwich option (it is probably an impossibility but one can hope - I am still not used to this being a thing as the UK is not in my home country). We have been told that chocolate is not an appropriate addition to a packed lunch which contained a wholemeal sandwich and apple. But then children bringing in rice crispy squares or packets of Doritos to school as snacks - which are objectively not any better than chocolate - are not called up on that. It is probably not possible to enforce this, but I would like to encourage a more consistent messaging. Another problem I have is when calling the office to notify them of illness-related absences, both children have been marked with unauthorised absences. I am certain that I called every day there were off sick and was not told on the phone that the reasons stated were not acceptable. I have been in contact with the office and have escalated this today with Mrs. Seaton.
- Staff really go that extra mile, to fully engage the children in learning. I believe they work with the individuals strengths and use these to effectively encourage participation. They also identify there weakness or if they are struggling with a particular aspect, they focus on things they can put in place to build confidence so they can gain a better understanding whilst feeling supported to overcome the issues.
- I feel that Amelia has lost so much academically in the delay in support for her adhd